Collecting model steam engines is a hobby that can be enjoyed by both young and old alike. Due to safety regulations it is always recommended that engines be used with adult supervision under the age of 14. All steam engines are designed and manufactured to international safety and quality standards. If you are not completely satisfied with the quality or workmanship of the model, simply return within 15 days for a refund or exchange (excluding shipping charges and 20% restocking charge). All models returned for a refund or exchange must be unfired and in original packaging. If you require technical assistance for any of our models, please contact our office.
